- February 16, 1907 was a significant, historical milestone when articles of incorporation were filed for Hillsdale & Western Telephone Company. During our 100 years, we have been a steadfast steward of progress within the communication industry adopting transformative technologies.
- Derived from the three counties it served, Chibardun Telephone Company was established as a non-profit organization to provide the very best telecommunications services available and then formally distinguishing itself as a cooperative and further diversified its portfolio.
- The Telecommunications Act of 1996 afforded new opportunities of growth and expansion for the company launching the CTC Telcom subsidiary of Chibardun. It was among of of the first facilities-based competitive local exchange carriers in the country.
- The company underwent a re-branding of the two companies to become Mosaic Telcom, offering a fresh name, brand, and vision for the company. The company added cellular telephone services to its portfolio and then retired networks in 2017.
- In 2020, Mosaic Telcom became Mosaic Technologies rolling out a comprehensive portfolio of products and services with a state-of-the-art fiber network. The company reorganized its focus and commitment to broadband infrastructure and technologies to support homes and businesses across the area.
- Most recently in our history, Mosaic Technologies acquired HomeTech Innovations, LLC located in Eau Claire, Wisconsin. The acquisition continues to combine the strengths of both companies, expanding their services and smart technology solutions. Introducing, HomeTech by Mosaic, a partner company of Mosaic Technologies expanding the products and services to the Northwest Wisconsin region and beyond.
